Centre for Multi-disciplinary Development Research (CMDR), Dharwad, Karnataka is one of the national-level social science research Institutes funded by Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), Ministry of Education, Government of India and Government of Karnataka.

CMDR has been functioning since 1976 as an autonomous non-profit research organisation. The aims and objectives of the institute include conducting research on developmental issues that are relevant at regional, national, and global levels. The approach of analysis is usually a multi-disciplinary framework, covering social, economic, political, and cultural dimensions of human behaviour. The institute is also known for its action research. In addition, there is an attempt to judiciously combine theoretical perspectives and empirical realities in the analysis of developmental issues.

CMDR caters to the needs of policy planners, academia, legislators, non-governmental organisations, researchers, research organizations, dissemination of knowledge through research publications, collaborating in research, imparting research training, assisting and advising through policy research and evaluation studies.
